Transliteration and translation for "Address to the visitor of the tomb of Horemkehbi", following the transcription of Sethe (1924), p. 89.

The transliteration throughout follows Hannig (1995).

Bibliography

O living who are on earth, every priest, every scribe, all people, and every lector priest who will enter this tomb, as you love life and detest death, as you pass on your offices to your children, so you say: 'A royal offering of Horus of Edfu, of Osiris, of Anubis on his mountain, and of the gods and goddesses in the temple.

May they give a mortuary offering of bread, beer, oxen, fowl, alabaster, clothing, incense, oil, offerings and sustenance, and all good and pure things on which a god lives, to the spirit of the priest of Horus of Edfu Horemmekhib, justified, begotten by the priest Seneb, justified, born of lady-in-waiting Sobek-neferu, justified.'

It is beneficial to the blessed Horemmekhib in the necropolis.
